

Diver Platform® Supplier Advisor™ for Supply Chain

Improve Productivity & Be More Efficient

The Challenge

Sales and management people have a difficult job. It is especially tough when tools are scattered across devices and networks. But tools for sales and management are vital for getting the data analysis and content needed to do their jobs effectively. There are other data analysis and content delivery solutions on the market. But customizing these solutions for suppliers is time-consuming, costly, and for some solutions — just impossible to do.

The Solution: Supplier Advisor

Supplier Advisor was designed for fast and easy access to data and files from anywhere. It was developed specifically for suppliers in the supply chain industry. Because of this, users can get up and running fast and cost effectively. This allows users to focus on what is important to them.

Supplier Advisor is built on the award-winning Diver enterprise platform. Diver provides role-based privileges, ensuring that the right people have access to the right information. Push out approved sales presentations or proposals to make sure your entire team has the right version of content at their fingertips.

Supplier Advisor gives your team the most up-to-date information when and where they need it. Using mobile technology, Supplier Advisor users have immediate and secure access to the latest metrics at any time, from any location. This empowers your team to base their management and product promotion decisions on the most recent data, regardless of their location. Access marketing material, presentations, financials, product sales, and analytics from one application.

Supplier Advisor was developed specifically for suppliers in the supply chain industry. We designed it with your team's needs in mind. The intuitive user interface makes it easy to navigate around presentations, sales data, media, and metrics. By having everything they need at their fingertips, your sales team can focus on capitalizing on new opportunities and closing more sales.

of customer meetings and presentations

The screenshot shows a web application window titled "Supplier Inventory" with a "DiveTab" browser header. The interface includes a navigation menu, filter buttons for "Brand", "Product Type", "Supplier", and "Label", and a data table. The table has columns for "Item", "Depl 90 Day", "Sup Closing Balance", "Sup On Order", "Sup QOH", and "Inventory Days". The data rows list various wine and liquor products with their respective sales metrics.
